Waterfront Win

Dundee Waterfront: Regeneration Project of the Year

THE REGENERATION of Dundee Waterfront has picked up another prestigious award. Named City Regeneration Project of the Year in the recent Scottish Property Awards, the development beat off stiff competition from across the country.

Lynne Short convener of Dundee City Council's city development committee said: "The waterfront development is an economic generator for the whole city and wider recognition of that is always welcome."

"It will offer further employment opportunities, income and an attractive place to live, work and enjoy leisure time which will be key to its success as we go forward."

The winners in the independent competition which celebrates achievements in delivering commercial and public property in Scotland were revealed at a recent event in Glasgow.

Development projects and people in commercial and public building were scrutinised by an independent judging panel of experts drawn from across the sector.

Bringing with them industry experience and market knowledge the panel recognised the greatest achievements in Scottish commercial property.

Fiona Morton chair of the judging panel said; "Congratulations to all of the finalists and winners in the fifth annual Scottish Property Awards. Judging the awards is immensely rewarding for everyone involved as we take time out of our busy schedules to celebrate the achievements in commercial property."
